"HEATHEN BOXEES" MEET SATURDAY

Two of the Most Peculiar Fighters in the Business, O'Brien and McCoy, Will Meet in Quaker City.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

Which I wish to remark-And my language is plain-That for ways that are dark And for tricks that are vain The Heathen Boxee is peculiar. And the same I am free to maintain.

Jack O'Brien are the gentlemen in question. Bret Harte's Heathen Chinee was an amateur in "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" beside these two.

One time Jack O'Brien fought Marvin Hart in Philadelphia. Wow! What a fight that was! Jack cut Hart to fragments. In the mean time Hart swung wildly and missed punch after punch. It looked as if the big fellow was outclassed a mile. And O'Brien walloped him! My! How he did wallop!

It was great. The crowd went wild. Cheers raised the roof. Hart had come to the ring side many pounds over-weight, and it had been announced that O'Brien refused to meet him on that account. Finally another announcement stated that O'Brien agreed to fight Hart if the over-bulked Louisvillian would consent to forfeit his share of the purse if he failed to knock O'Brien out in six rounds. course, not. Jack O'Brien is too foxy to necessary in training.

I don't blame him for wanting a man like Hart and giving away twenty pounds or so. It is simply an indication of the fact that "Philadelphia Jack" is a sort of J. Piersont Morgan in the ring—a financier with a trick of bulling the market when he gets a chance. O'Brien can fight, for all his foxiness. A short time ago in Philadelphia Jack. A short time ago an Philadelphia he gave Tommy Ryan the surprise of his life. It was in the fourth round, and Jack sent one over. Down went Thomas on his back. When he rose, barely within the count, he was so dazed that for a moment he did not know which way to look for O'Brien. Then a lucky swing changed the tide and Jack was near out himself. O'Brien fought a grand fight in the last round, beaten to a finish, but punching back all the time like an Indian.

WANTS TO BET ON M'COY.

George Considine has $1,000 to bet that if there is a knockout in the coming six-round bout between "Kid" McCoy and "Jack" O'Brien in Philadelphia next Saturday night, it will be O'Brien who will be the victim.

The New York sportsman is thoroughly confident that McCoy will win the battle. There is considerable betting in New York on the contest, and while there will be no decision rendered, the press reports will be relief upon as to the superiority of the boxers, unless a knockout is scored.

FIGHTING NOTES.

According to a despatch, Tommy Ryan has been matched to meet Arthur Cripps before the Colma Athletic Club, olma, Cal., on June 18 in a twentyround bout for the middle-weight cham-pionship of the world, but Slivie Fer-retti, Ryan's manager, denies the story and says Ryan wants no one but Jack O'Brien.

Jack (Twin) Sullivan, of Boston, and Hugo Kelly, of Chicago, will enter the ring at the Auditorium in Indianapolis to-night in the best of condition for their ten-round contest to a decision.
The men have been in training for nearly thre weeks and have probably worked harder for this contest than for any other in which they have been matched this year.

Gus Ruhlin, the "Akron Giant," who seems to have gone back considerably, seems to have gone back considerably, if his recent fights count for anything, is matched to meet George Lawlor, the Western heavyweight, for twenty rounds at a boxing show to be brought off at Houghton, Mich., on the afternoon of July 4. Lawlor has never amounted to much, and if Ruhlin does not stop him before the expiration of the bout it is doubtful if Ruhlin will ever get another fight in that vicinity.
